

Dear Sir/Madam,

I am setting up a new business in Boston - Lucinda Design Labs - design and art classes for children and I need a website where people could learn about the classes and register for them.

I would like a website to be simple, modern and easy for people to register and possibly set up on Wordpress. I have created a mockup of the website (please find attached to this email) but I am also open to your suggestions. I do not have a logo or domain name yet, could you also help me with that?

I do have a budget for starting my business but not sure how much the website design is going to cost me. Please provide me with pricing information and how long it would take to complete this job for me. I plan to start my first classes by the end of September but I understand it is a quite tight deadline. Nevertheless, I would need the website to be ready by the end of the year at the latest.

Kind Regards
Lucinda Yang
